About Us

Photography is one field that has undergone a revolutionary transformation over the last few years thanks to the advent of digital technology. The ‘art’ of photography has not changed at all, only the tools have.

Digex - Digital Excellence, the film and photography society of Delhi Public School, R. K. Puram is a vibrant community of photographers and filmmakers across all skill levels.

A beginner can choose to undergo some workshops, or maybe take part in photography walks; while more advanced photographers can showcase their work on the forums and complete challenges organised by the team.

The club is a good way for students to interact with professionals who can guide them on the best way to pursue this passion of theirs. We soon intend to organise exhibitions to boost students’ creativity and the club’s cause.

The Festival seeks to bring together emerging and established artists and photographers from around the city with the aim to reflect the diversity in visual culture today. At the core of the Festival, is an extensive and multi-layered program of events and initiatives.

This year, the society openly calls registrations from all image-based genres, ranging from fine art and conceptual work, to documentary, photojournalism, imaginative storytelling and photo-based installations, interactive, multimedia works and more.
